Before the remains were placed in the grave, the lid of the coffin was raised, to allow the friends and fellow-citizens of Mr. SHEPARD to see his face once more. The coffin was covered with black cloth, studded with silver nails. It bore the inscription:

Died Sept. 19, 1856.
Aged 50 years, 3 months, 19 days.

Along the whole line of the procession the side walks were crowded, and the greatest order prevailed. It was altogether a very solemn occasion. The death of Mr. SHEPARD has deeply touched the hearts of thousands. He was generally and deservedly beloved. It might almost be said of him that, though he entered warmly into politics, and was a strong partisan, he had no enemies. His hand and heart were always open to do good. He was a hearty friend and a large benefactor.

INTERESTING FROM WASHINGTON.

THE PANAMA MASSACRE.

Report of the U. S. Commissioner, A. B. Corwine, Esq.

Proposal to Take Possession of the Isthmus.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, Sept. 21.

I am able to send you further particulars of the Report of Mr. CORWINE, the Special Commissioner sent out by our Government to investigate the circumstances of the Panama massacre.

His report is very voluminous, embracing all the testimony taken by him while on the Isthmus. It is addressed to the Secretary of State, and is now on file in the State Department.

Mr. CORWINE states that the riot was commenced by a colored native who fired a pistol at an American passenger, who was intoxicated. The subsequent attack upon the Railroad depot, and the firing upon the passengers, was in pursuance of a plan deliberately formed in advance, in which the Authorities of Panama were actively concerned,—the police being parties to the plot:—and that the dispute with the passenger was merely seized upon as a pretext for commencing the assault.

He states also that the military Authorities of Panama failed utterly in their duty,—that they did nothing to suppress the riot:—that they connived at the attack of the police and mob upon the stationhouse,—and were themselves to a very great extent responsible for the massacre.

As the conclusion of the whole matter Mr. CORWINE reports that the Government of New-Granada is utterly unable to maintain law and order, and incompetent to the protection of passengers and property crossing the Isthmus. He refers to a variety of incidents within the past few years to sustain this position.

He also recommends THE IMMEDIATE OCCUPATION OF THE ISTHMUS, FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN BY THE UNITED STATES, as absolutely necessary for the purpose of securing safety and tranquillity to the transit, unless New-Granada, after the proper representations shall have been made, and the necessary demand made upon her, in pursuance of treaty stipulations, can satisfactorily use as to her ability and inclination to afford the proper protection and make speedy and ample atonement for the outrage inflicted upon our countrymen by the people and officials of the State of Panama.

These recommendations are backed up by strong arguments, and are accompanied by elaborate statements of the amount of business done across the Isthmus, and of the extent to which American lives and property require protection.

The Report engages the attention of the President and Cabinet. A strong disposition is evinced in some quarters to act immediately upon its recommendations. It is probable, however, that nothing decisive will be done until after the Presidential election. The effect of an immediate movement upon the result of the canvass is feared.

You may rely upon it, however, that Mr. CORWINE would not have urged so bold a policy as this unless certain of being backed up by the Government. He has been appointed Consul at Panama, and unless supported by the Administration, would be very likely to have his exequatur refused by the New-Granadian Government for such a recommendation.

Yours, &c.

Shocking Affair at Baltimore.

THREE ITALIANS FRAMERS BY ITALIAN ORGAN-GRINDERS—INCITEMENT OF THE POPULACE.

BALTIMORE, Sunday, Sept. 21.

A shocking affair occurred last night at Locust-point Hill, at the eastern extremity of Baltimore. Two Italian organ-men were found secreted in the lot-house of Col. J. MAYNADIER TURNER, by TURNER and a neighbor named THOMAS WOLLERS. Supposing the designs of the Italians to be robbery, TURNER treated them accordingly, when one of the Italians drew a stick and stabbed THOMAS and WOLLERS in their left breasts, the instrument entering their lungs and producing probably fatal wounds.

Another friend of TURNER's was also stabbed in the arm, producing a serious wound. Intense excitement prevailed among neighbors, and it was difficult to restrain them from lynching the perpetrators on the spot. Both men have been sent to jail. It is supposed that the Italians merely went into the house for lodging. THOMAS and WOLLERS are not expected to survive.

Land Sales in Nebraska—Claim Troubles and Interesting Scenes—General News of the Territory.

Special Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times.

OMAHA CITY, N. T., Thursday, Aug. 21, 1856.

Much interest is manifested here in regard to the probable time when the surveyed lands of the Territory will come into market. The probability is, I understand from reliable authority, that it will be open for preemption claimants this Fall; yet I am inclined to the belief that it will not be till next Spring. Should it come in this Fall, or, indeed, early next Spring, thousands upon thousands of acres will pass into the hands of speculators, worth readily five times the amount of the entry or Government price.

Occasionally we have claim troubles away out here. Quite an exciting scene took place a few days since out on the Horn River, some 30 miles northwest from here: A man by the name of BAYS had squatted upon a piece of timber land, which, it seems, had a prior claim thereupon. Notice was given him to vacate the premises, but of no avail. Stay there he intended to, dead or alive, and he would get backing enough to sustain him. Upon these threats, upwards of sixty men from the thriving city of Pontoosalle—where, by the way, the first claimant resided—and armed with muskets, rifles, double-barreled shot guns, pistols and bowie-knives, repaired to the disputed claim to oust BAYS and his host. They found no one there but BAYS and a friend—pulled down his cabin, and after giving him a taste of Elk Horn River, he concluded to resign all right and title to the claim, and was allowed to go in peace. This is about a fair specimen of the way claim jumpers out here on the frontier are served. Indeed, they may consider themselves lucky to get off thus easy.

Occasionally trains pass through here on their return from California and Salt Lake. A few days since a train direct from Placerville, California, passed through here. They report all peace on the route with the Indians. Grasshoppers are destroying everything in Utah. The Vigilance Committee of California—at San Francisco—are renovating the cess-pools of infamy in and around San Francisco and really doing much good. Crops good in California, but the cities and country growing poor every day. California is not the California of last years, or year before.

You have doubtless see this heard of the strong Republican movement throughout the Territory here. It has swept off by hundreds the Old-Line Democracy and Whigs. It has established upon this virgin soil the prominent and active party of the day. It has based its principles upon the hearts of the people, and become great and strong. But political consistency on the frontier is a shadow. Men here are not men in the States. Political leaders here are broken down party hacks of bygone days, shifting, veering and trimming to suit every breeze that blows; and it is no wonder that the Republican Party can find its followers amongst such a class.

The Indians on our frontier are quiet. Crops look fine all over the west, and health of country good. Settlers fast coming in. The general election of November come on the first Tuesday in November, and already hundreds of gaudy, bill-posters, would-be statesmen are found anxious to serve their country. Of late years I have found it to be a fact that those who would not contend a corporal's guard in votes in their native State for any office, are the very individuals of same are of that class who may be ranked in

We left our country for our country's good."

THE FRENCH ACADEMY ON THE WORD BOULEVARD.

The French Academy alone has the power of changing and amending the French language. Ten years ago this body was charged by Government to commence a complete and thorough revision of the Dictionary. The labor was commenced, and has progressed with French expedition to the middle of the letter B! A spirited discussion has been going on for some weeks on the word "Boulevard," which they have at length decided shall be no longer spelt as I have just spelled it, with a final d. The t prevailed. M. EUGENE SCRIBE contended that the word should be spelt without t or d, thus: Boulevar.

THE END OF THE GREAT PRECATORE SUIT.

The decision in this case was rendered yesterday, in the midst of a crowded and excited Court. This was a suit brought by the heirs of M. PRECATORE, to recover from his pretended wife the immense property left by that gentleman, lately deceased, and valued at two millions. M. PRECATORE married his servant, Madame WEBER, in Spain, and under directions given him by a French priest. Both M. PRECATORE and Madame WEBER believed the marriage valid, and M. PRECATORE left his property to his "dearly beloved wife," in full faith of its validity.

At the first trial, which occurred a month ago, and upon which six of the best known lawyers of France were employed, the case was terminated by a division on the part of the Judges. This result piqued the curiosity of the public no little, when [illegible] Judges on the bench to try the cause. It was asked how could there be a division of opinion where there was an odd Judge? At any rate a new trial was granted, and set down for the 25th of this month. The trial only occupied one day, for as the whole proceedings, including the pleadings of the advocates, had been printed, there was but little new to add to the case.

The Judges decided that the marriage was not civilly valid, and condemn Madame WEBER to the expenses. The decision was made more or less under the influence of the Catholic church, and as it reaffirms an antiquated law of the monarchy on marriage, it will undoubtedly give rise to many bitter criticisms and recriminations.

The diplomas rendered by the Great Universal Exhibition of last year to American exhibitors, to accompany their medals, left in the steamer Fulton from the port of Havre, yesterday, for New-York. These diplomas, which have been carefully prepared by Mr. ALEXANDER VATTEMARE, are addressed in separate packages to the Governors of the several States, who will be charged with their distribution to the persons to whom they are addressed. Mr. VATTEMARE deserves the thanks of the Commission and the exhibitors for the handsome and careful manner in which he has performed this labor, for it was a labor, without other reward than thanks. The delay was with the Imperial Commission. MALAKOFF.

THE NORTH AMERICANS.

Letter from Col. Seymour—History of the Recent Convention at Syracuse.

ALBANY, Friday, Sept. 19, 1856.

To the Editor of the Daily Times:

I observe, under the telegraphic head of the Times of yesterday, a notice of the proceedings of the North American Convention, held at Syracuse on the 17th inst., which contains the following statement:

"After stormy sessions in the afternoon and evening, and a bolt of a number of the delegates, the Convention adjourned sine die, after nominating Fremont and adopting the State nominations of the Republicans, and adjourned sine die."

MEETING OF THE BOLTERS.

The bolting North Americans held a meeting at the St. Charles Hotel, about fifty in number, including outsiders, and adopted resolutions repudiating all connection with the Republicans, and determining to hold a Convention at Rochester on the 22d inst. It was also resolved to issue an address immediately.

This statement is entirely erroneous, and, inasmuch as it is calculated to convey a wrong impression, and produce injury to the cause in which, I trust, we all feel a deep interest, I will ask permission to give you a short but accurate account of the proceedings of the Convention in the afternoon and evening.

The Committee on Permanent Organization reported the name of Judge W. W. CAMPBELL for President, which announcement was received with great applause, and who, upon taking the chair, made an eloquent and earnest address in favor of the American, Protestant and Free-Soil sentiments, which lie at the foundation of the true American organization. The further report of the Committee in relation to Vice-Presidents and Secretaries was unanimously adopted. After which the Committee on Credentials reported the names of about one hundred and fifty delegates, and asked for leave to be continued, inasmuch as many delegates had arrived since the report was prepared, and whose credentials had not been presented to the Committee.

This report was also unanimously adopted. After which Mr. F. W. WALKER, from Kings County, arose to inquire of the Committee why his name had been omitted from the list of delegates. Judge RUGGLES, the Chairman of the Committee, replied that evidence had been presented to the Committee, showing that Mr. WALKER had written to a large number of the delegates elect to this Convention, requesting them not to attend the Convention; and further, that Mr. WALKER had been engaged since his arrival at Syracuse in attempting to suborn the delegates by offering them money if they would bolt from this Convention and join him in the support of FILLMORE. And that, for these reasons, the Committee had thought best not to place Mr. WALKER's name upon the list of delegates.

Mr. WALKER then asked to be heard in his defence; and the Convention signified a willingness to hear him. He then proceeded to make a long, and apparently an earnest defence against the charges, denying their truth and vindicating the course which he had taken since the Philadelphia Convention, held in February last.

A Committee was then appointed to investigate the charges made against Mr. WALKER, immediately after which I offered a preamble and some resolutions for the consideration of the Convention, which were read by the Secretary, and a motion was made to adjourn till 7 o'clock in the evening. Before adjourning however, the Convention adopted a resolution to close the doors during the Evening Session against all but members of the Convention and reporters, for the reason that a crowd of outsiders had on several occasions attempted to disturb the Convention during the afternoon sitting.

On the assembling of the Convention in the evening, the President stated that the first order of business was the consideration of the resolutions offered by Mr. SEYMOUR. The mover of the resolutions then asked and obtained leave to make some slight changes in their phraseology (in compliance with suggestions from friends during the recess) after which they were fully discussed and adopted by the Convention with but one dissenting vote. This one vote was given by Doctor BENNETT, of Syracuse, who had obtained a seat in the Convention after giving to myself and other friends the most solemn assurances that if he took a seat as delegate, he would act with us in good faith, and take open ground for Freedom and Fremont. And I regret to say that it was upon my personal assurance to the Committee, and indorsement of his good faith, that his name was allowed to go upon the list of delegates. After the adoption of the Preamble and Resolutions, the Doctor very properly relied unanimously from the Convention, and I suppose (from himself) politely and alone, into the arms of his friends who had been hurrahing for FREMONT at the door, and endeavoring to force admittance into the room during the whole evening. Not a tear was shed at the departure of the least indication being noticed by any one of a desire to detain or to follow him. After the appointment of a Committee to wait upon the Republican Convention with a copy of the resolutions, the Convention adjourned sine die.

[illegible] of a number of the bolters at the St. Charles Hotel, stated that "about fifty in number, including outsiders, composed the Convention. The informal organization of this place was one noisy and [illegible] and it is very doubtful whether they will follow the example of the great Baltimore Convention and give in, or rather [illegible] to Fremont.

I will most cheerfully support the ticket, and I know the very number of the true Democratic Convention held at Syracuse will do so also. There is nothing in the action of the Syracuse Convention to prevent any support of such a ticket, and I readily do say that nothing could be more gratifying to every member of that Convention than to see the great American party of this State united once more upon a platform and principles which embody so much of true Americanism. If they will not do this, we them no longer range as over, those who have honestly and fearlessly adhered to the Hamilton Platform, and have steadfastly refused to aid in the transfer of the American Party of this State, and of the Union, to the support of base and principles that are directly antagonistic to the great and living principles of Freedom and humanity.

I append a copy of the preamble and resolutions adopted by the Convention at Syracuse, from which it will be seen that the true American Party are only pledged to the support of the candidate, who is the acknowledged representative of the principle of "American Freedom, in all the broad and glorious significance of the term."

S. SEYMOUR.

Preamble and resolutions adopted by the true American Convention, held at Syracuse on the 17th of September, 1856:

Whereas, The National Convention of the American Party, held in Philadelphia on the 22d of February last, did, by its action in nominating candidates for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency, ignore the distinctive principles of the American Party, and unite itself with the slavery propagandists of the North and South; and

Whereas, The action of said Convention was in direct violation of the principles avowed by the American Party of this State in relation to the extension of Slavery into free territory, as the same are expressed in the platform unanimously adopted by the State Council held at Binghamton, Aug. 27, 1855, which platform and principles were indorsed by nearly 100,000 voters of this State at the election held in November last; and

Whereas, A large majority of the delegates from the Free-States to the said nominating Convention of the 22d February, did, on account of the aforesaid abandonment of principle, withdraw from said Convention, and unite in a call for an American Convention, to be held in New-York on the 19th June last, at which Convention the name of John C. FREMONT was unanimously agreed upon as the candidate for the office of President of the United States, to be supported by the true American Party at the coming election; and

Whereas, It is the opinion of this Convention that the great interests of the American People, and of the American Party, will be best promoted by the union of all the elements of opposition to the present Democratic Administration, and to the further extension of Slavery, in the support of Jonn C. FREMONT for the Presidency; and

Whereas, The Republican Party, by a call addressed to all persons of all parties who were opposed to the present Democratic Administration, and to the establishment of Slavery in Kansas and other territories consecrated by solemn compact to freedom, did meet in Convention in Philadelphia on the 17th June, and unanimously nominate John C. FREMONT as the candidate of the Republican Party for the office of President, and invited his support all persons, without distinction of party, who were in favor of free soil, free speech, and a free press; and

Whereas, It is the opinion of this Convention that it is the solemn duty of every true patriot to unite heartily in the support of the aforesaid principles at the ensuing election, and to give them no support from other considerations of a personal or party character; and believing that they outweigh all other issues now before the American People, and that the only means of securing the establishment of these principles is by a hearty and cordial union during the present canvass, of all the available elements in their favor; and further, solemnly believing that the cause of FREEDOM will be promoted in the firm establishment of these principles, but that a dissolution of these elements will result in their defeat, and in a firm establishment of Slavery in our free territories; therefore,

Resolved, In view of the above considerations, and with a desire to aid in harmonizing the elements of strength in the great and impending struggle between Freedom and Slavery, that this Convention will make no separate nomination of candidates for Presidential Electors or State officers for the ensuing election.

Resolved, That regarding JOHN C. FREMONT as representing American Freedom in all the broad and glorious significance of the term, the American Party, as represented in this Convention, will cast its votes for these candidates and for that electoral ticket which will, if successful, secure his election and sustain his administration.

Resolved, That an Executive Committee of five be appointed, who shall draft and publish an address to the people of this State, call future conventions, and transact such general business as the interests of the party may require.

We have read the above letter of Mr. SEYMOUR, and cheerfully bear testimony to the facts therein stated, and unite in the pledge to support a State ticket nominated upon the platform and principles therein set forth.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 20, 1856.

CHAUNCEY SCHAFFER,
LUTHER CALDWELL.

The following are the Resolutions offered by Mr. CALDWELL, and rejected by the State Council held at Syracuse in August last:—

Resolved, That the attempts made in "Congress" during its late session, and yesterday in the United States Senate, to suppress the freedom of speech, as manifested in the brutal, slanderous and cowardly attack of BROOKS upon Senator SUMNER, deserves and should receive the execration of every man, North and South, and of all those, irrespective of party, who, by their votes in Congress or elsewhere, have contributed to this infamous transaction, are justly chargeable to the same reprobation.

Resolved, That the provisions of the Kansas-Nebraska Act, wherever embodied, are pernicious in theory, and in the practical working of the Act, have proved so in this State and nation, heavily to admit and frankly to acknowledge the decision of our Fathers—that the Government of the Territories is vested in and should be exercised by Congress.

Resolved, That the well-nigh fatal assaults upon Freedom, in the outrages perpetrated in Kansas, under the protection of the present National Administration, and the failure of Congress effectually to interpose and prevent these outrages, prove that the true rights of the actual inhabitants of that Territory, merit the unqualified condemnation of all lovers of Republican Liberty; and that no true American should be indifferent to the same, or fail by word or act in all fitting ways to vindicate the oppressed against their oppression and oppressors.

Resolved, That this Council denounce the repeal of the Missouri Compromise as disruptive to the peace of the nation, and fraternal relations of the country, and that the Territory which was covered by it was and shall be preserved to Freedom, so that slavery may not exist therein, nor Slave States formed therefrom be admitted into the Union.

Republicanism South—An able Address from the Republicans of Maryland.

From the Baltimore Clipper.

AN ADDRESS TO THE REPUBLICANS OF MARYLAND.

The Republicans of Maryland, in submitting an Electoral Ticket to the people, submit with it a declaration of their principles.

They declare true-hearted, entire devotion to the Constitution of the United States; and now that the subject of Slavery, which was the greatest objection to the union of the States under our Government, has been made the entering wedge to split it asunder, we declare our adhesion especially to the Compromises made in the Constitution, and which, in the acquisition of new Territories, were made in conformity to it, to settle the difficulties growing out of the question between the North and the South, which cemented the Union, and gave peace and prosperity to the country.

We declare our abhorrence of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise of 1820 and that of 1850 as a breach of faith and a violation of the compact between Slaveholders and non-Slaveholders, and the cause of civil war, now for the first time broached in our country; and proclaim it as our solemn conviction, that there never can again be unity between the two classes of our citizens, or peace between the two great sections of our country, until the rights guaranteed by all the compromises in regard to Slavery are fully restored.

We declare the charge, that the Republican Party is in favor of the abolition of Slavery, to be utterly unfounded. As a party, throughout the North, as well as at the South, they hold that this is a subject only to be disposed of by the government of the Slave States—and we, as citizens of a Slave State, pronounce the opinion that the liberation of the blacks would be an unmixed and unmitigated evil, fatal to the African race, which would be crushed under the weight of the superior race, and, for a time, degrading, and every way mischievous to the laboring classes among the latter, and calculated to unsettle the political as well as the economical elements of our Government.) We believe that Slavery never can and never should be abolished without making just compensation for the capital sunk, whether it was capital invested in the purchase or rearing of the slaves.

We believe that even with the consent of those interested, and just compensation made, the State Legislatures could not safely make a sudden emancipation, nor without provision, made through the agency of the General Government, for the removal of the manumitted race to some region, as our continent between the tropics, suited to the African race, and where it is found the white race can never flourish. Nature has put her interdict upon the amalgamation of the races; natural repugnance forbids it, and it is found that the hybrid race, whether of whites and blacks, or between whites and Indians, always become abortive after several generations.

In every aspect in which Slavery among us can be considered, it is pregnant with difficulty. Its continuance in the States in which it has taken root has resulted in the monopoly of the soil, in a great extent to the hands of the Slaveholders, and the entire control of all departments of the State Government, and not a majority of people in the Slave States are not Slaveowners. This produces an anomaly in the principle of our free institutions which threatens in time to bring into subjection to slaveowners the great body of the free white population; and yet to get rid of Slavery as at present existing, would prove ruinous to all classes, and must, therefore, be looked upon as impossible, and, if to be accomplished in time, can only be in a remote future, and therefore, not to be thought of in connection with impending dangers. To meet these, we must look to the patriotism and patriotism of our fathers, which so amply averted all the imminent approaches made from this threatening cause of disunion, and transmitted to us our country, with the inheritance of their work. They gave us that Union which we cherish as our chief good, and which we must preserve at all hazards.

This was the spirit in which our fathers met the Missouri Compromise and that of 1850, and this spirit is now cherished by the true American party of this State. I emphatically say the true, for the name has been assumed by a party of pretenders who have proscribed, which has been repudiated and abandoned by the Fillmore party. To breathe awaynest of earth, to fold the hands and sleep to wake no more—
Can this be all of what the world calls death?

When on that early grave the wild-flowers spring,
Like angels sent to guard our faded flower,
Think we the lost one hath forever passed
From life's sweet gardens, like a Summer shower?

Then, though the tears are falling, and the heart
Goes trembling forth to meet the world's harsh strife,
We will not wildly mourn—we will be strong;

MONDAY, Sept. 22—A. M.

The Foreign Trade at this port the past week was rather moderate on the general Import and Export list, but active and heavy in the movement of Specie and the operations of the Foreign Exchange. The entries of Foreign Merchandise, including the Dry Goods table in our last paper, amounted to $3,488,898, against $2,719,584 same week last September. The clearances of Domestic Produce and Miscellaneous Goods amount to $1,022,157, against $1,340,074 same week last year. The receipts of Gold in Coin and Bullion from California on Monday were $1,607,006, and the shipments to Europe, including $484,000 by the Fulton for Havre on Saturday, were $2,068,297, against $922,254 same week in 1855. There was also sent to Boston by Express on Friday, $50,000 for shipment by steamer Cambria, on an extra trip from that port for Liverpool. The balance of Coin and Bullion in the Government Sub-Treasury, in this City, on Saturday afternoon, to the credit of all accounts in the office, stood $13,760,819, against $13,679,817 at the close of the previous week. The whole registered movement of Specie, for the week, each way, shows an apparent difference of $640,931 against the Specie reserve on the Banks, which stood on the last average $12,361,387; and the general expectation in the Street appears to be that in the average to be declared this afternoon the figure will fall to or below $12,000,000. The movement has been more closely watched, and more importance has been given to it on the Stock Exchange than in Bank or with the Discount Brokers, the terms for Money, as well as the freedom of supply at the going rates, being much the same as the previous week. This state of confidence, so different from last Fall, when the activity in the export of Specie created much concern, particularly in view of the condition of financial affairs in France and England, is to be attributed in a considerable degree to the healthy state of trade at home, in connection with the restoration of peace on the other side, and the disposition evinced by English capitalists and bankers to extend larger credits to this country. On the other hand, the running up of the import list in reasonably calculated to engage all business in speculation or general speculation, and put back movements which are necessary for a readjustment of the financial affairs of the country. The large bills which are now falling due, are very frequently extending their influence, and the general expectation is that the coming month will be a very busy one for the money market, and perhaps prove the most critical period of the present year.

The Stock Market has been very active during the past week, and the prices have ruled very unsettled, with a decided downward tendency, in consequence of the unfavorable news from Europe, and the continued heavy pressure of the Stock borrowers, which has been more than the usual confidence, because of the freedom of the Stock Exchange. Not from non-dividend-paying and doubtful securities, and the fact that the better class, principally in Railroads, are comparatively lower than any previous season, (except that of 1854,) while the Railway traffic of the country is rapidly increasing and its general management quite as decidedly improving. The amount of these Stocks held on the Street is also influencing this feeling, as it is now pretty well understood—the interested exaggerations occasionally put forth to the contrary, notwithstanding—that the Shares of most of our prominent lines were never so well distributed as at present, much the larger portion being held through both City and country, like Bank Stocks themselves, for the liberal and scarcely less certain income which they are at present affording.

The past week was an active one on the Stock Exchange, the principal feature being a heavy demand from one or two firms for the shares of the New-York and Erie Road. The daily transactions in this Stock alone, including the unofficial or unregistered sales on the Street, averaged from 10,000 to 15,000 shares, the prices on Monday being 61¾@63¼; on Thursday, 63@63¾, and on Friday and Saturday, 62½@63@63¼, closing with the week at 62½@63¼ ▼ cent. The Stock for immediate delivery on Saturday sold as high as 63 ▼ cent.—after being heavily done on contract, buyers 60 days, at [illegible] ▼ cent. [illegible] the day, by some of the Brokers, to sell both [illegible] since the only exception to this remark so far as the cash Stock was concerned. The following is the

The principal transactions on the Railway Board list were in Illinois Centrals, which advanced to 95 ▼ cent., under a demand to fill maturing contracts and some orders from Europe, and subsequently fell off to 94¼@¾. The issues of the Erie and New-York Central Companies were also in request at the close of the week, but the annual offering is too limited for anything like active speculation.
